Directions

Fort Gordon is best reached via Interstate 20. Take Exit 194 to Belair Road and Dyess Parkway. Follow the Dyess Parkway signs, and also the Fort Gordon signs. Take note that the exit numbers on I-20 were changed in January 2000; Exit 194 may appear on some maps as Exit 63. Also, if approaching from the east (from Columbia), you will see signs directing you to take exit 196A to reach Fort Gordon. Do not exit there; go on to Exit 194 instead. Dyess Parkway will bring you directly into the post through McKenna Gate, also known as Gate 1. Follow the road, which is Chamberlain Avenue, past the guardhouse. After passing the golf course on the left, you will see Darling Hall, a three story brick building with a red roof, on your left.

Continue past Darling Hall and Signal Towers until you come to 25th Street. Turn left and proceed about 100 Yards. The Detachment will be on your left. Due to parking limitations in front of the detachment, recommend parking to the right, in a grassy parking area across the street or the theater parking lot (in view of the Det).

If traveling to Fort Gordon from Bush Field Airport, follow the airport exit around to Tobacco Road. It's the road that joins the airport "circle" right in front of the big flag. Take Tobacco Road all the way to Fort Gordon. You will enter through Gate 5 onto Avenue of the States. This gate is undergoing construction so exercise caution. To reach Darling Hall, stay on the same road, which turns into Rice Road. Darling Hall will be on the right at the intersection with Chamberlain Avenue. Turn left at the stop light follow the aforementioned directions from Darling Hall.

Fort Gordon is approximately 142 miles east of Atlanta, 80 miles southwest of Columbia, South Carolina and 122 miles northwest of Savannah, Georgia.
